HISTORY OF COLUMBIA POST.

In presenting this Historical Roster and Directory, Columbia Post has taken into consideration the general desire on the part of the public, as well as our fellow comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, for more specific information than is afforded by a list of names and addresses of the comrades, and with this end in view, have incorporated a brief military record of each, giving date of enlistment and rank at the time and date of discharge from the service, with rank attained.

The first meeting looking to the formation of the Post, was held Thursday, September 18, 1890, in the rooms of the Chicago Military Club, 125 Dearborn street, pursuant to a call of Comrade H. G. Purinton, and was attended by the following comrades: H. B. Brooks, L. W. Campbell, W. H. Coulston, Frank B. Davis, J. R. Darroch, J. G. Everest and H. G. Purinton, all of whom came in as Charter Members, except J. R. Darroch. Excuses were received from five comrades, who were absent from the city. At this meeting the present name was adopted and the principles upon which we proposed to organize were fully and freely discussed and firmly established, as follows:

That we recognize as first and foremost the fundamental principles of the Grand Army of the Republic, but at the same time are of the opinion that there yet remains among the old soldiers, or enough of them at least, that esprit de corps and pride in every and all things of a military character to maintain a Post, established and conducted upon the principles which follow. In so doing, we shall show to the masses of the people that we can submit to discipline as cheerfully as in the days of '61 to '65, and by so doing help to inculcate that spirit of patriotism which is so dear to the heart of every comrade.

Columbia Post is limited in membership to 150 comrades, not from any idea of selection or exclusiveness, but because it was believed by the founders of the Post that a compact body of enthusiastic workers in the sacred cause of "Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty" could accomplish more good than a larger and necessarily more unwieldy body. And it is this pride in the Order and the Cause that prompts the comrades of Columbia Post to maintain a strict military discipline and appear on all official occasions fully uniformed and equipped, thus demonstrating that the military spirit acquired in the trying days of the war of the rebellion is not extinct.

Columbia Post was mustered into the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Illinois, October 16, 1890, with the following Charter Members:

Aiken, W. J.	Farmer, G. T.
Arnold, D. A.	Gannon, C. D.
